ARTIST PROFILE

Emotional weight. Industrial force. Festival-scale release.

RIVT is a Pittsburgh-based electronic producer and DJ building cinematic bass music from dubstep impact, metal intensity, and emotional storytelling. The result is heavy without becoming one-dimensional: recognizable hooks, tension-driven transitions, and drops engineered for collective release.

His catalog with Brazil's Mustache Crew Records places that sound inside an international, genre-fluid label ecosystem. Live, RIVT favors narrative set construction—familiarity becomes pressure, pressure becomes chaos, and chaos resolves into a final-room payoff.

PERFORMANCE CREDIT

While working Iceland Eclipse Festival, RIVT joined fellow work-exchange DJs and producers to throw WEX Fest at The Freezer in Rif. RIVT played the midnight slot immediately before KLAKI.

Working from a standalone-ready USB in a low-light booth, RIVT moved the room through melodic recognition, riddim pressure, and a heavy closing run before handing over to KLAKI.

SET DNA

MELODIC ENTRY

Familiar vocals establish trust before the set starts tightening the screws.

PRESSURE BUILD

Subtronics and Excision push the room from bounce into full-body impact.

RECOGNITION FLIP

Nirvana’s original becomes a launchpad for YOOKiE, then Sullivan King closes the circuit.
